WORLD ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT REGULATED TOKENIZATION BANKERS AUTHORITY INC.

AGRICULTURE AND COMMODITIES, LEGAL TENDER TOKEN

DESCRIPTION

The ACLTT Token (Agriculture and Commodities, Legal Tender Token) is a GMTX-listed asset class designed to represent regulated, issuer-defined economic exposure to agricultural production flows, commodity inventories, and related off-take or supply-chain contracts, all structured so that tokenized units function as a compliant, transferable legal-tender-anchored instrument. ALCTT's design enables institutional and sovereign-scale participants to access agriculture-linked value in a standardized, regulated, and jurisdictionally clean format without relying on public-chain infrastructure.

USAGE

The ACLTT Token is used by agricultural producers, commodity traders, and supply-chain operators to raise capital or pre-sell production by allocating tokenized interests in crops, storage inventories, or long-term off-take agreements. For example, an ALCTT issuance may fund a soybean producer's planting cycle, secure financing for a grain-storage expansion, or allow a commodities distributor to monetize forward delivery contracts in a compliant, transferable format.
