

NEOM NEW EMERGING OPPORTUNITY MARKETS INFRASTRUCTURE BOND LEGAL TENDER TOKEN

DESCRIPTION

The NEOM Token (NEOM New Emerging Opportunity Markets Infrastructure Bond Legal Tender Token) is an issuer-defined digital instrument structured to represent economic participation in large-scale infrastructure, development, and market-expansion initiatives within emerging global opportunity zones. The underlying asset framework may include government-backed or privately sponsored infrastructure projects, long-term concession agreements, development receivables, and other structured cash-flow assets tied to emerging-market growth. The issuer establishes the asset composition, the payment or distribution mechanics, and all applicable transfer or redemption conditions, allowing NEOM to operate as a compliant, contract-based vehicle for allocating and transacting value linked to early-stage and infrastructure-driven emerging-market opportunities.

USAGE

The NEOM Token is used by developers, governments, and institutional participants to finance and allocate participation in large-scale infrastructure and development initiatives within emerging markets. For example, a NEOM issuance may support transportation infrastructure, utility systems, or long-term concession projects tied to regional growth strategies. This enables emerging-market infrastructure value to be structured, allocated, and transacted under issuer-defined contractual terms.
